by Safety Corp Pty Ltd, Registered Training Organisation (RTO) 91694

This nationally recognised training is offered by, or on behalf of Safety Corp Pty Ltd (RTO 91694). Training, assessment, and related educational and support services may be provided by an authorised third party training provider.

Safety Corp Pty Ltd is responsible for the quality of the training and assessment in compliance with government legislation, and for the issuance of certificates, including where services are provided by an authorised third party provider.

Overview

The course we deliver is highly practical and focused on developing skills you can put into practice in real emergency scenarios.

This course provides the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to a casualty. The course applies to individuals who may be required to provide a first aid response in a range of situations, including community and workplace settings.

This course is sometimes referred to as Apply First Aid, Senior First Aid or Level II First Aid.

Certain workplaces may require additional or specialised training, including childcare and high-risk environments. If you are unsure whether the training product is right for you, please seek advice from the training provider.

Key Learning Outcomes

- Responding to an emergency situation
- Performing CPR and using a defibrillator
- Applying appropriate first aid procedures
- Practical treatment of bleeding, burns, bites & stings, poisoning, fractures, choking, shock and more
- Management of asthma and anaphylaxis including the use of an EpiPen
- Communicating details of the incident including workplace reporting

Pre-Requisites

There are no pre-requisites for this course.

Course Requirements

Successful completion of this course requires participants to have the physical ability to respond to an emergency situation and provide a first aid response to a casualty. This includes the requirement for all participants to perform at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted CPR on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor.

Foundation skills are the underpinning communication skills required for participation in the workplace, the community and in adult education and training.

- Learning – to learn to provide first aid response in an emergency.
- Reading – to administer medication for anaphylaxis or asthma.
- Writing – to complete documentation such as reports/risk assessments.
- Oral communication – to call the ambulance and provide a handover.
- Numeracy – to count the number of compressions and breaths.
- Digital literacy – to access and navigate online learning environments (where applicable).

All training and assessment materials and equipment will be supplied throughout the course. Students will need to bring a blue or black pen and wear comfortable, casual clothing. Students completing online components will require access to a reliable computer or portable device with an internet connection.

If you are concerned about any of these requirements, please contact your training provider prior to enrolling into the course.

Delivery Modes

Training and theory assessment may be completed either in a classroom environment or online. Consideration is given to previous skills, knowledge and experience for students refreshing an existing or equivalent certificate. Minimum timings below are approximate and will vary depending on the number of students and their experience.
